DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the internal fluid delivering provided in the tool must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claims 1 and 9, the phrase "airless type" renders the claim(s) indefinite because the claim(s) include(s) elements not actually disclosed (those encompassed by "type"), thereby rendering the scope of the claim(s) unascertainable. See MPEP § 2173.05.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-2, 4-10, and 12-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by McConkey (5,494,134).

In Re claims 1 and 9, McConkey discloses a device for delivering a lubricating and/or cooling fluid near the contact area between a tool and a workpiece being machined (see fig. 5), comprising at least a circuit (30) for circulation of said fluid and delivering means to deliver said fluid near, or in correspondence of, the contact area between said tool and said workpiece, characterized in that said delivering means include one or more nozzles (36).

In Re claims 2 and 10, the nozzle has a delivering orifice having a diameter between 0.10 mm and 0.80 mm (see col. 3, lines 50-51).

In Re claims 4 and 12, the nozzle has a spray angle of the jet between 10 and 80 degrees (see col. 3, line 56).

In Re claims 5, 6, 13, and 14, see col. 4, lines 63-64. Additionally, claim elements "means to supply" is a means plus function limitation that is understood to invoke 35 U.S.C. 112, sixth paragraph. McConkey discloses conduits (see figs. 1 and 6).

In Re claims 7 and 15, see fig. 5.

In Re claims 8 and 16, see fig. 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over McConkey (5,494,134) as applied to claims 1 and 9 above, and further in view of Raghavan et al. (5,417,607).

McConkey fails to teach a fan shaped spray pattern.

Raghavan et al. teach a nozzle spraying a fan shaped spray of fluid. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the nozzle of McConkey to have a fan shaped spray, as taught by Ragavan et al., to allow the fluid to be sprayed across the tool and workpiece surfaces to selectively remove a layer of material from the surface evenly and completely, without damaging the tool or workpiece, and to also ensure an even or complete coating of the tool and workpiece.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
